

PUBLIC LEDGER

SEVENTH YEAR. MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1898. ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can afford to give his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

DANDY VERDICT.

"Guilty But Not Proven" Was the Result in Jim Bell's Case.

What a funny thing law is!

James Bell, colored, was indicted by the Grand Jury for forging Hechinger & Co.'s check for $18 on the First National Bank.

And he got the money. When he was arrested he had some $12 in his pockets, which was used as offset to the Paying Teller's loss.

Yesterday the case was tried before Judge Harbeson and a Jury.

County Attorney O'Donnell and Commonwealth's Attorney Daum prosecuted, and Judge A. E. Cole & Son and Judge E. Whitaker defended.

When the prosecution closed they left a hole that you could roll one of Charlie Degman's big rumpkins through.

They proved the fact that the check was bogus and that Bell had gotten the money on it; but they failed to prove that the Bank was incorporated, and probably that it was located at No. 17 West Second street, North side, in the incorporated city of Maysville, on the South bank of the Ohio river, in Mason county, state of Kentucky, United States of America, A. D. 1898, &c., &c., &c.

And for this, these and other good reasons the Attorneys for the defense moved the Court for peremptory instructions to dismiss their client, which under the law had to be given, as the allegations of the indictment were not sustained.

So James was set free while the prosecuting lawyers looked around to see what had struck them.

Jim ought now to go down and claim the money that was taken away from him.

FLOTSAM—JETSAM—LIGAN!

NEWSY NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Lizzie Bay passed up last night for Pomeroy.

The Ohio continues to rise slowly at Pittsburgh, but the rise is about all there.

The handsome Queen City will be the next Pittsburgh boat down, passing this city tomorrow evening.

The Keystone State with a fine trip passed down last night from Pittsburgh and will return tonight.

It is estimated that it will cost over $10,000,000 to construct the dams required between Marietta and Pittsburgh.

The Henry M. Stanley passed down last night from Pomeroy, and tonight she will pass up for Charleston and way points.

There is considerable coal in the Pittsburgh harbor, and it will be sent out as fast as it can be taken by the various steamers.

The steamer Queen City has been completely sheathed over her entire hull with heavy steel in order to battle with ice and heavy drift.

One of the barges of coal sunk by the Tom Rees is lying crossways in the channel at Deadman. It is in the way of passing boats. Steamers coming down should run to the right.

Since June 8th, 1876, there has been before the House of Representatives a bill authorizing an appropriation of $31,586.67 to reimburse certain coal operators and individuals for the rebuilding of a pier of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Bridge at Parkersburg, W. Va. An effort will be made to get the money during the present session of Congress.

The towboat Jim Wood made a remarkable run between Pittsburgh and Middleport, O., a distance of 240 miles. The Wood departed at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning and arrived at Middleport yesterday morning, hitching to a tow of empties and leaving there at 7 o'clock for Pittsburgh. The actual time consumed was 30 hours, an average run of 12 miles and hour.

We All Know

There is a popular belief that eyes cannot be properly fitted outside of an oculist's office, but we are constantly proving the incorrectness of that belief. If you have a dull pain about the eyeball, or if, when reading, the letters seem to run together, call and be relieved. We charge nothing for examination, and guarantee satisfaction in every case.

HONORING HEROES

Patriotic Kentuckians Will Mark Bluelick Battlefield.

POPULAR DONATIONS ASKED.

A movement has been started among some of the patriotic people of Kentucky to build a monument on the field of the battle of the Bluelicks, one of the bloodiest and most stirring battles ever fought on Kentucky soil.

Mr. J. T. S. Brown, Colonel R. T. Durrett, Colonel Bennett H. Young of Louisville, Dr. T. B. Todd of Lexington, Hon. Green R. Keller, the Rev. H. M. Scudder, Mr. Frank Lindsay, Mr. Hanson Kennedy, Mr. H. M. Taylor and Mr. Thomas Hunter of Carlisle, have formed an association for the purpose of building such a memorial.

It is proposed to raise the money by popular subscription from all parts of the state, among the posterity of those brave Indian fighters and other patriotic Kentuckians. It is believed that state pride alone will induce nearly every man and woman in Kentucky to subscribe to this cause. Each subscriber will be presented with a copy of the history of the battle by Colonel Bennett H. Young, conceded to be one of the most thrilling histories ever published in book form, and a certificate of membership to the association. The subscribers' names will be placed in the cornerstone of the monument to be erected.

Miss Florence Barlow of Louisville has consented to take charge of the subscription.

tion department, assisted by a corps of patriotic women, who are meeting with every encouragement. Should any one in the state by accident be overlooked who would like to contribute to this cause or have a copy of the history, it is hoped he will send his name and subscription to Miss Barlow.

It is confidently believed that a sufficient amount will be raised in time to erect and dedicate this monument on August 18th, 1898, the one hundred and sixteenth anniversary of this bloody conflict.

Only since 1893 has it been possible to obtain a correct and detailed account of the famous battle. Papers in the British Museum have unfolded all the facts which had remained concealed for over a hundred years, thus giving the descendants of these martyrs an opportunity to do full justice to the brave pioneers who fought so heroically and paved the way to civilization and peace. At present there is nothing to mark the historic spot.
